Money: A competitor of the company Smartcity can hack the centralized monitoring system, this would lead to a mess with the traffic and the bins. The company Smartcity would be negatively impacted in their reputation and this would lead to the loss of money by not signing contract with other European countries. The motivation for the competitor is the money they gain some part of the market.

Politics: A competitor of the current "maire (chef de la ville)" can disturb the sensors on waste-bins, the harm would be that citizens wouldn't be happy anymore with the council of the city because there would be bins evergwhere due to the disruption of the sensors. The motivation for the competitor would be to be elected in the next elections.

Ideas: A group of people pro-privacy can destroy/cover the cameras used to analyze the real-time traffic arguing that it is not in their ideology to be looked after by ML augmented cameras. The stakeholders harmed would be all the users of the road. They wouldn't have any information about traffic jams anymore. And the traffic light can malfunction due to the loss of information.
